Friday Roundup: World Green Building Week Wraps

Published on 21 Sep 2012 | Written by Jennifer Easton | Posted in Industry

Global green building: Studio 505's Pixel building in Australia is LEED Platinum (Photo credit: John Gollings)

Happy Friday: Check out our favorite clips and announcements from this week (World Green Building Week, at that!) - and share your own in the comments.

- Hey, soul sisters (and brothers): Today, we announced that three-time Grammy Award-winning band Train will headline the Greenbuild 2012 celebration. We hope you're as excited as we are!
- World Green Building Week 2012: From Slovenia to Sweden, 90 nations representing more than 20,000 organization celebrated global green building this week.
- Global Vision Awards 2012, Travel and Leisure: The publication scoured the globe to unearth the standard-bearers of sustainable tourism.
- Green schools: USGBC's Orange County chapter led the charge behind a "greenovated" school that acts as a learning tool for students.
- Forces Command and U.S. Army Reserve Command headquarters on Fort Bragg get LEED Gold certification, FayObserver.com

Jennifer Easton
Marketing & Communications Project Manager
U.S. Green Building Council

Member employees, USGBC staff

0 comments

Leave a comment

Leave a comment

Don't have an account? Create one

You must be signed in to leave a comment.

Email

Password

SIGN IN