

Kimberly L. Lewis

Vice President of Conferences & Events

As the Vice President of Conferences & Events at USGBC for over eight years, Kimberly Lewis manages the direction of the annual Greenbuild International Conference & Expo, the world's largest conference and expo dedicated to green building. As a direct testament to the department's success, Greenbuild has received the IMEX responsible meeting award and Trade Show Week's Fastest 50 conference award four times.

Along with the annual conference, the Conferences & Events team coordinates more than 100 committee meetings, summits, roundtables and special events throughout the year. With 14 years of experience in the hospitality industry, Kimberly is a leading speaker for her peers, educating audiences on coordinating sustainably responsible meetings and conferences.

Prior to joining USGBC, Kimberly served as the Senior Meeting & Events Manager of Incentive and Recognition at WorldCom Inc. where she planned both domestic and international sales roll-outs and incentive and recognition contests and events.

Kimberly serves on the advisory boards of convention and visitors bureaus in three cities – Denver, Atlanta and New Orleans – as well as on the advisory board of Starwood Hotels Inc. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication and Political Science from Hood College in Frederick, Md. She is a professional member of the Professional Convention Management Association (PCMA), the International Association of Exhibitions and Events (IAEE), the Green Meeting Industry Council (GMIC), and was a member of the Corporate Social Responsibility Task Force of Meeting Professionals International (MPI) from 2008-2009. She is currently serving on the CSR Task Force for PCMA.

Kimberly is passionate about using the Greenbuild platform to promote social equity and increase access to the benefits of green building for under-served communities.
