Global Construction Summit 2012

Join ENR at the Global Construction Summit in NYC June 6 - 7, 2013. This essential conference brings together industry professionals from major construction markets around the world to explore growth opportunities and investigate solutions to the most pressing challenges on the international playing field. Additionally, for the first time, Engineering News-Record will present the ENR Global Best Projects Awards, a new annual awards program dedicated to honoring the best global construction projects and the companies that designed and built them. For more information about registration and the conference, visit their website.

A potential contractor must have the necessary credentials and experience to do the job perfectly. A good way to choose a contractor is to interview them. This will assure you of good customer service. <http://contractorquotes.us/>
