

Friday Roundup: Big Greenbuild News, Taking on Chemical Lobby, Kaiser's LEED Gold Hospital

Published on 24 May 2013

Written by Jacob Kriss

Posted in Industry

Twitter Facebook LinkedIn

Credit: Oscar Einzig

Here's our weekly collection of green building clips:

Hanley Wood Acquires Greenbuild Conference & Expo, Trade Show News Network. USGBC's new partnership with Hanley Wood for Greenbuild will help the world's largest event dedicated to green building gain even more momentum.

Kaiser Permanente says its new Hillsboro hospital is a model for future facilities, touts LEED Gold certification, The Oregonian. Congratulations to USGBC platinum member Kaiser Permanente for its LEED Gold certification for the Westside Medical Center!

Supporters of efficiency measure fear amendment backed by chemicals group could be fatal 'Trojan horse', E&E News. Big chemical is trying to ban LEED for federal government use through an amendment to the upcoming Shaheen-Portman energy efficiency bill currently in the Senate. Take a stand for high-performance green buildings and let your senator know you oppose the amendment!

Intel - A Sustainability Powerhouse for Change, Examiner.com. Intel, another USGBC platinum member, earned a spot among the Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations in the World for the ninth straight year.

Some see design-build as easier path to LEED, Finance & Commerce. Design-build, when a single company or joint venture handles design and construction services under one contract, can streamline the LEED process under some circumstances.

Top 10 green buildings of 2013, GreenBiz. The American Institute of Architects' Committee on the Environment has chosen a list of the top 10 green buildings for 17 years; this article highlights two of them.

LEED Design: You Can't Afford Not to Do It, Hotel Business Review. Concord Hospitality Enterprises' president of design and construction writes about a proven fact: LEED saves money for businesses.

Related Articles

The logo for EDGE, featuring the word "EDGE" in a blue, sans-serif font. The letter "E" is stylized with a green and blue geometric pattern inside it. The background of the top section is a photograph of a modern building's curved, white, textured facade under a clear sky.

EDGE

Building a brighter tomorrow in India with EDGE

By Sarah Buente

IN INDUSTRY

11.21.17

The logo for Parksmart, featuring a stylized white roof icon composed of several parallel lines above the word "Parksmart" in a white, sans-serif font. The background is a solid lime green color.

Parksmart

Parksmart is all in: Certification now a fit for all parking structures

By Paul Wessel

IN INDUSTRY

11.6.17

The logo for Arc, featuring the word "arc" in a white, lowercase, sans-serif font. To the right of the text is a stylized white icon consisting of several concentric, curved lines that resemble a signal or a wave. The background is a photograph of a cityscape, likely Rio de Janeiro, with a large body of water and mountains in the distance.

arc

Greenwatch Latin America: Growing and innovating with Arc

By Enzo Bamente

USGBC Articles can be accessed in the USGBC app for iOS or Android on your iPhone, iPad or Android device.

□□□